ChatGPT. Assistance given to the author, AI. I used the following prompt in ChatGPT: "in excel how to create a function that checks if one condition is true from a table then match it with data from the same table." ChatGPT recommended I use the IFERROR, MATCH, and INDEX functions to complete this task and gave me an example using a generated table with data. OpenAI, (https://chatgpt.com). Microsoft Support. Assistance given to the author. I used the Microsoft Support website to reference how to fix a DIV/0 error, create a dropdown table, and use left and right functions. This website was very useful and easy to follow given their image examples which I used to help formulate my functions pertaining to those tasks.
